

Helping you deliver best-in-class events

At Silicon Brighton we pride ourselves on being at the forefront of exploring, advancing, and delivering hybrid events. Powered by innovative technology and our collaborative ethos, we can help you deliver a world-class experience to all attendees, however they choose to participate.

Lockdown changed the way we communicate with one another at work and within our communities. Now that Covid restrictions have relaxed, we've seen a huge shift to hybrid conferences, events and meetings. To help businesses to stay relevant and connected, we're now offering our expertise and professional equipment to hire.

Formats

TOWN HALLS

The cornerstone of company communication! A means to keep employees up-to-date on important events and milestones, discuss the coordination of company resources, provide a clear understanding of company goals and objectives, or simply motivate the troops. A Town Hall affords the opportunity to deliver clear communications in a time and space set aside for exactly that purpose.

TALKS

Holding a talk or knowledge-sharing session at your company no longer needs to be confined to just the meeting room on a specific date. A hybrid approach allows all employees to participate, dial in from anywhere to watch, engage with the speakers, chat with others in the room, or catch up at a more convenient time through a recording made available afterwards.

WORKSHOPS

Until recently workshops were impossible to deliver at scale, requiring a high level of participation from both attendees and available facilitators responding to their needs. Hybrid technology addresses this, elevating the experience for everyone. From adding collaboration and whiteboard tools, to quizzes and polls, to elements of gamification, it delivers a blended experience to engage all participants.

INTERNAL MEETINGS

The rise of hybrid meetings has been a game-changer for businesses large and small. No longer are physical location and time zone a barrier to effective brainstorming and collaboration. By enabling participants to join remotely, hybrid meetings provide a great experience for everyone and guarantee the right business outcomes while reducing time wastage and increasing accessibility.

Benefits

INCREASED REACH & ATTENDANCE

Remove restrictions on the size, location and, in turn, participation of an event by providing accessibility to attendees who cannot physically be present. Staff from all over the world can join!

OUR PLANET

Organise an event with a sustainable mindset, allowing those concerned about reducing their environmental footprint to join online, taking action to decrease their carbon emissions, and still enjoy a great experience.

REDUCE COSTS

Lower travel, venue, catering, and other associated costs.

FLEXIBILITY

When circumstances stop speakers or employees physically attending, hybrid events save the day, allowing them to switch to virtual participants, and avoiding costly setbacks!

HIGHER ENGAGEMENT

Broaden engagement opportunities with your audience, not only during the event but in the days and weeks that follow.

Pricing

Silicon Brighton offer hybrid event services and equipment rental, tailored to every customer, from standard kit hire and AV assistance to end-to-end event management.

Prices start from £495 per day

Don't forget, Silicon Brighton Members receive a discounted rate across all packages!

"We have used Silicon Brighton's AV services for two of our quarterly company offsites and the team have been fantastic. Grace and Charlie were both incredibly knowledgeable about all of the kit, making it simple to adapt with any last-minute changes and keep the sessions running smoothly. They took a huge weight off our shoulders by being a calm presence during a busy day! Silicon Brighton as a whole has enabled us to deliver in-person and virtual sessions, meaning our wider, international team can be included in our events, which is an integral part of our remote-first vision. We will most definitely be using Silicon Brighton for future events and are very grateful for all of their support!"
